ROSWELL WILL SEND TEN MEN TO THE TRACK MEET

Artesia Also Sending Team for Saturday's Interscholastic Contest; Deming Expected to Come.

Two more track teams were added to those which will compete in the second annual interscholastic track meet here Saturday, when Coach Hutchinson today received letters from Roswell and Artesia high schools announcing that each would send a team. The Roswell team will consist of ten men, who will be entered in the full program of events. The number of the Artesia team is not known, but as some twenty-five men took part in the preliminaries there last Friday, it will probably be a complete team.

Coach Hutchinson was in long distance telephone communication with Deming today and the Deming high school probably will send its team, although arrangements are not yet complete. The teams added today mean that every section of the state will be represented, and that more than a hundred will be entered in the various events.

LINING 'EM OUT

They held a double-header in Boston yesterday to celebrate Paul Fierver's ride. The Athletics celebrated the celebration by roughriding over the Sox.

It was about time something in the way of a victory fell to one or the other of the champs. The pennants begin to take on the aspect of the flag of Admiral Cheese of the Swiss navy.

Studied affronts of Federal league toward organized baseball may not demand vote by congress, but they promise to call for $50,000,000 war fund just the same.

Speaking of a new umpire, esteemed Courier-Journal says: "He was right on top of every play. Admit an umpire might be on top all the time, but object to the word 'right'."

Scanning the Phillies record to date, like Laminger says he has a suspicion the Feds stole the wrong players.

Recruit Cy Marshall has apologized to Captain Magee of the Phillies for banging him on the back, and will be readmitted to friendly relations without firing a salute.

It cost Mitchell, the English amateur heavyweight champion, $5,000 to be knocked out by Georges Carpentier. He bore all expenses. If that were the price of a knockout on this side of the water all the white hopes would be bulging with acids.

Last season Walter Johnson had a long run of scoreless innings. He looks right for another string this year.

George Daus, of Detroit, pitched just two-thirds of an inning the other day, but gets credit for a victory just the same. In the thirteenth frame of the opener with the Browns, Daus retired on account of pain in his damaged knee, and since the score was 9-0 when he left the fray Daus gets credit for the game that was hammered to a victorious finish by his mates.

From Gallup comes the following guaranteed sport news: Gregoire Weisendanger, Gallup's celebrated southpaw and protégé of the world-famed Rube Marquard, has accepted a position on the rip track.

Wesleyan students must attain a certain degree of proficiency in baseball, tennis or track athletics, the same in Latin or Greek, according to a ruling of the faculty announced yesterday. All freshmen are to be required to take regular work in organizing these branches of athletics. Wesleyan university is on the right track. Times is coming when degree in baseball will win earnest young graduates a fatter job in shorter time than seven other assorted kinds of Ph. X. Y. Z. & Co.

And tennis degree will be useful in meeting foreign competition in the marriage mart.

The veteran Bobby Wallace is still in action for the Browns. The Browns without Wallace would look as unofficial as the Pirates without Wagner.

Nick Young, for eighteen years president of the National league, says he thinks the Federal league has a fine chance to succeed. Nick has no grouse against his old organized associate. He is simply giving utterance to a frank opinion. A lot of other folks are beginning to have the same notion.

Ike Imainger says the worst slam at the Fed league record was furnished by Earl Hamilton. He jumped back to the St. Louis Browns.

Connie Mack says of Bobby Byrne: "The Phillies will have no hole at second base. They have one of the best in the country in Byrne, who he'll be a sensation everywhere they visit."

Abe Attell is still talking about going after a match with Champion Kilbane, who took the title away from him.

Promoter Dick Burke of England offers a $25,000 purse for Gunboat Smith and Carpenter to box the latter part of July.

Promoter Coffroth of San Francisco is trying to arrange a bout between Sam Langford and Gunboat Smith for next month.

Joe Jeannette and Bombardier Wells have been offered a $7,500 purse to box in London.

Al McCoy has decided to get some glory and money out of his unexpected victory over Chip and has backed away from another match with the latter.

If Hank O'Day is to have seriously the Cubs will be a great pitching corps this year. O'Day declares that in Cheney, Vaughn, Humphries, Pierce, Charles Smith and Lavender the Cubs will be remarkably well fortified in the box. O'Day is enthusiastic over the apparent rejuvenation of Lavender, who was a big winner in 1913. Hank says that Vaughn, the big left-hander who was a sensation after he joined the Cubs last summer, will repeat, and that Pierce, a southpaw, will be a consistent winner. Since the acquisition of second baseman Bill Sweeney, O'Day firmly believes that the Cubs will be up with the leaders of the National league race all the way.

Joe Wood, when he reported to Manager Carrigan of the Red Sox, declared that the loss of his appendix had not affected his smoke ball a bit. Wood said he would be ready to pitch by May 1 at the latest.

M'COLLOUGH IS LET OUT TO THE BUSHES

O'LEARY WILL BE THIRD MAN IN THE RING

Jeff Clarke's Manager, Noted for Fairness and Good Judgment, to Referee Torres-Schaeffer Bout.

One of the important details of the Torres-Schaeffer battle, which will be staged at the Elks' theater next Thursday night, was settled today after a two-hour argument between the managers of the two boys, said detail being the naming of the referee. Jack O'Leary, manager of Jeff Clarke, the Fighting Ghost, will be the third man in the ring.

O'Leary was pressed into service after the managers had wrangled for a brace of hours over the jurist to preside at the trial of brawn and brain Thursday night, and both of the managerial carpers were ticked when he consented to represent the Marquis of Queensbury on the select occasion. O'Leary is an old timer in the fight world, and knows every slant and angle of the game. He is a referee noted not only for his rigid fairness, but for his knowledge and sound judgment. With O'Leary in the ring, the fans can rest assured that the referee matter has been attended to in an eminently satisfactory manner.

O'Leary's selection was a ten-strike move in view of the fact that a lot of money has been put on the fight, aside from the side bets of the boys themselves. No better referee could have been picked. Director Mark Levy heaved a sigh of unctuous satisfaction when Jack gave his word to shoulder the job.

Schaeffer and Torres are plugged away at their training. This afternoon Schaeffer will work out at the New Mexico Athletic club and Torres will work tonight.

Young Patsy Kline and Eddie Roades will go on in the curtain raiser Thursday night. They are both willing scrappers, and will lead in the right spirit to the slugging match between Young Duran and Young Fichman, who will settle the question of supremacy left open at their last gory meeting in the semi-windup number.

CONGREGATIONAL VOTE TONIGHT ON WILLIAMS PASTORATE

There will be a congregational meeting tonight at the Gold and Broadway church to consider the question of asking the pastor, Rev. Herman P. Williams, to resign. The question arose over the title of the church. The pastor calls it The Church of Christ, while certain members of the governing board insist that it is properly the Christian church. There is no other ground for a difference of opinion, it is said by church members, and Mr. Williams' activity in city politics has had nothing whatever to do with the movement to request his resignation.

STATE GANG KEPT AT WORK ON WASHED ROAD INCREASED CAPITAL FOR BANK BOUGHT BY LOCAL MEN

French Allows His Force to Help Chairman Beaven Repair Damage; Will Inspect Corrales Route.

Work on the road west of Barelas bridge, which was almost swept away by the rushing river Sunday, will be finished today, John Beaven, county road chairman, expects. The county gang were assisted through the critical stage of the work Sunday and yesterday by the state road gang at work on the Albuquerque-Isleta road, and this morning Chairman Beaven called State Engineer J. A. French of Santa Fe on the phone and asked if the county might have the use of the men until the work was finished. Mr. French promptly authorized his assistant in charge of the work, Charles Morrill, to continue his gang on the county road.

Mr. French told Mr. Beaven that he would be here Saturday night to be on hand for a trip with Mr. Beaven and others interested over the proposed route of the Alameda-Corrales road. The road builders want Mr. French's expert opinion on the route and the difficulties that the builders may expect to encounter.

COMPANY 6 READY FOR SERVICE ON SHORT NOTICE

Capt. Hines' Command Has Been Quietly Preparing for Call to the South for Some Time.

ENTHUSIASM IS HIGH; ENLISTMENTS EXPECTED

If the call should come, Company G, First regiment, N. G. S. M., of this city, is ready for service. The company, which is commanded by Captain W. P. Hines, is in excellent shape and ready to entrain for the border on short notice.

For some time the men have been expecting to be called for service in the south. They have been preparing quietly for the call, and nothing has been left undone to insure quick movement to the point of mobilization.

Enthusiasm runs high in the local company, and tonight being the regular drill night it will doubtless go on record as the night of the greatest number of applications for enlistment in years. New Mexico will be one of the first states to send troops south, and it is believed that on account of that there will be an overflow of men at the army tonight.

Adjutant General Harry T. Herring says that New Mexico can put two regiments in the field. Albuquerque would be represented by two companies of infantry and a detachment of the hospital corps. Captain W. P. Hines of Company G, said in an interview this morning:

"Up to the present time we have not received any orders from Santa Fe for a movement of troops, but we expect them any hour. Company G was never in better shape in its history to answer a call to arms than it is at present, and upon receiving orders the company would be on the move in incredibly short time."
